INTRODUCTION

WELCOME TO CLUB 1882 AND THE 1882 COLLECTIVE.

Created to address fundamental funding gaps in the Canadian Sport system, particularly in the cycling ecosystem, Cycling Canada's flagship fundraising programs aim to fuel growth and rally resources to ensure a strong future for the sport of cycling in Canada.

The philanthropic support of our community remains a necessity to ensure a well-maintained cycling ecosystem and foster the continued momentum of success on the international stage.

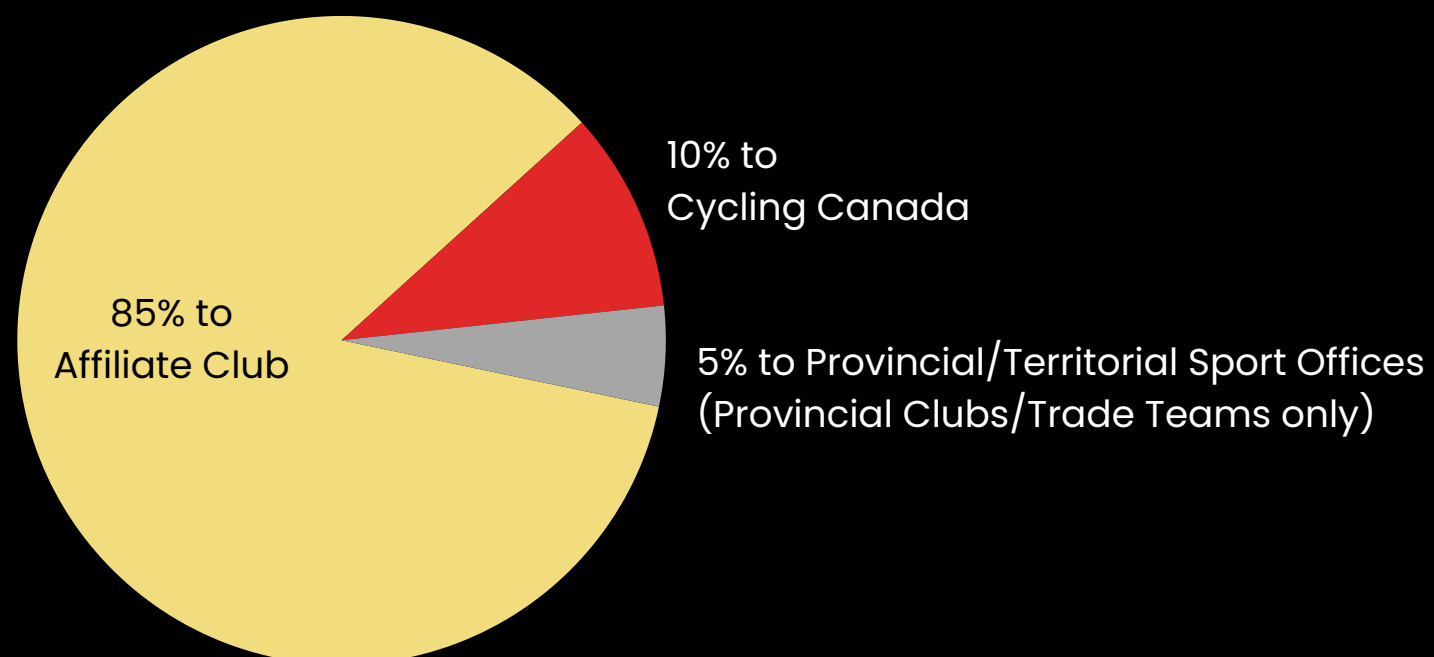

COLLECTIF

COLLECTIVE

For the first time in history, Cycling Canada, our partner Provincial/Territorial Sport Organizations, National Trade Teams, Provincial Trade Teams and Provincial Clubs have joined forces to raise funds in a collaborative effort to holistically support the development of cycling nationwide. This collaborative effort is known as the 1882 Collective. Through the 1882 Collective, Cycling Canada works directly alongside affiliated clubs and trade teams to support unique fundraising initiatives with the objective to infuse resources into essential development initiatives nationwide.

Through a carefully curated donation pipeline, those donating to the 1882 Collective can rest assured that 100% of funds are attributed directly to the Canadian cycling ecosystem. No hidden platform, transaction fees or service fees.

To ensure a bright future for our athletes, we know that public funding alone is not enough. That's why we established Club 1882 as part of our strategy to build a stronger, more sustainable development pathway. Spearheaded by Olympic medalist and Cycling Canada board member Curt Harnett, Club 1882 was launched in 2021 and remains the direct fundraising branch for Cycling Canada's national team development initiatives. All funds raised through Club 1882 are allocated directly to National Team programming, serving developing athletes as they aspire to international success.

HOW TO DONATE:

GENERAL DONATIONS

Cycling Canada directly administers the 1882 Collective as well as Club 1882;
Cycling Canada's own affiliate within the collective.

Those interested in donating may choose to make a donation at the Club or Team level, impacting local development programming through an affiliate member of the 1882 Collective, or directly to National Team development programming via Club 1882.

HOW TO DONATE:

The 1882 Collective represents a variety of affiliated clubs and trade teams, all in good standing with our partner Provincial/Territorial Cycling Associations. Each affiliate has been thoroughly vetted through Cycling Canada and our PTSO partners to ensure that all funds raised contribute to the growth and development of the sport of cycling.

With the support of Cycling Canada, each 1882 Collective affiliate has a unique fundraising page outlining key objectives, and of course providing a platform to donate at the level of your choosing. All donors contributing $25 or more will receive a tax receipt upon donation, as well as a thank you message on behalf of the club/team administration.

Those donating at a level of $1,882 or more to any member of the collective will be recognized with "1882 Collective Honour Roll" status, offering unique benefits and recognition directly from Cycling Canada. ← MAJOR DONOR RECOGNITION →

1882 COLLECTIVE: HONOUR ROLL

In an effort to recognize those contributing at the highest level to 1882 Collective affiliate clubs and trade teams, Cycling Canada is pleased to provide "Honour Roll" status to those contributing $1,882.00 or higher to an affiliate campaign. Alongside specific recognition from the affiliate, Cycling Canada will recognize Honour Roll contributor support directly via:

- Commemorative thank you gift
- Access to exclusive Cycling Canada partner discounts
- Priority access and/or discounted rates for domestic World Cup-level events
- Public recognition on "Honour Roll" 1882 Collective webpage

CLUB 1882: MAJOR DONORS

The support of major donors remains instrumental in removing the financial barriers faced by National Team athletes and underfunded National Team programs. As such, the recognition of Gold, Silver and Bronze Tier Club 1882 donations aims to drive direct impact to National Team projects and programming, carefully and collaboratively selected alongside the donor. Project/programming fees in need of support are outlined in full-transparency, with opportunities for major donors to cover some-or-all of the cost of any particular project, discipline or program of their choosing.

Donors will receive direct consultation from Cycling Canada staff while offered the opportunity to provide direct feedback throughout the fundraising process.

MULTI-YEAR COMMITMENTS

As always, multi-year donation commitments across all donation levels are encouraged. By securing longer-term commitments, Cycling Canada is able to lay the foundation for sustained, year-over-year programming to ensure stable growth and reliable programming where it is most-needed.

CLUB 1882: JUNIOR PROGRAMMING

In recent years, Cycling Canada has made a concerted effort to increase the amount of programming which supports the further development of talented young athletes across all disciplines. Identified as an underfunded area that remains crucial to cultivating future talent, major donors are encouraged to consider focused donations to Junior programming. By supporting Junior programming, major donors reduce the barrier to entry for major international Junior competitions, ensuring top talent is not limited by financial constraint.

Current Junior-dedicated projects, including relevant cost estimates for direct support are outlined on the following page.
